Transformation and change characterize our modern working world

Every professional decision involves opportunities and risks. We will support you in weighing them up and bringing them in line with your own life goals.

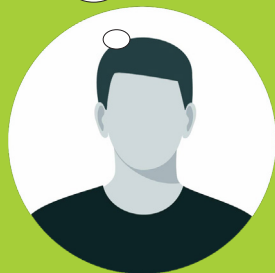

Lifelong learning, unemployment, fixed-term contracts, flexibility and mobility are realities of life for many employees. Integrating major and minor changes into one's own biography is challenging. Facing up to change therefore requires courage and commitment.

I'm looking for a new professional orientation

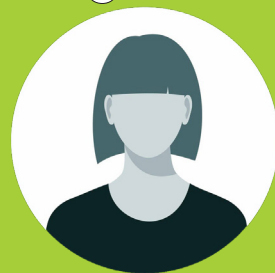

I have questions on my career

I want to combine family and career

We take the time to clarify your concerns with you. Factual questions and strategic considerations are always taken into account against the background of your abilities, interests, and current life situation.

We are ...

a socially-engaged association committed to fair chances in work, occupation and further education. We have been operating successfully as a consulting service provider since 1995. Our distinguishing trademark is an active, life-long and educational orientation for women and men.

We work ...

with a team of consultants with various educational and practical experience and which aim at a common understanding of consulting and quality.

For us, there is no "patent remedy". We make use of customized consulting strategies, which are realistic in the matter and creative in approach.

We cooperate ...

with international, national and local experts and companies. We seek systematic exchange and cooperation with professional networks in order to continuously adapt our services to changing requirements.
